DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because the abstract is too long and presented in two paragraphs. It should be in a narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph with in range of 50-150 words. Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).
2. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: At the beginning of the specification, the continuing data needs to be updated such as the application serial No. 09/756,292 filed January 9,2001 is now US patent 6,712,456.
Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter, which the applicant regards as his invention.
4. Claims 19-22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.
5. As to the independent claims 19 and 21, it is not clear how the cited process steps possibly complete the manufacturing of the ink-jet recording head without the process steps of forming the nozzle plate with the nozzle orifice?

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

6. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

7. Claim 19 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Shimada et al (EP 963 846).

Shimada et al disclose a process of manufacturing an ink-jet recording head including the steps of:

- Forming a passage forming layer (50) on a passage-forming substrate (10) having a pressure generating chamber (12), which communicates with a nozzle orifice, wherein the passage forming layer disposed in between the passage forming substrate and the vibration plate (55) formed on the passage forming layer (col.1, line 12-15, figure 12);
- Forming piezoelectric element (70) of a thin film on the vibration plate (col.11, lines 35-38 and figure 12);
- Forming the pressure-generating chamber by etching the substrate and also form a space portion (350) in the passage- forming layer (col.22, lines 1-20 and figure 12).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

8. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

9. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

10. Claims 20-22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Shimada et al (EP 963 846).

Shimada et al disclose above in the paragraph 7 but fail to teach the passage-forming layer comprises polysilicon (claim 20) or boron-doped polysilicon (claim 21).

However, it would have been obvious design choice to choose above-mentioned material as the passage-forming layer as the vibrating plate for efficiently pressure generation through the deformation of the piezoelectric element with the help of the electrodes in the piezoelectric element.

By doing so, one of ordinary skilled in the art will easily generate pressure in order to eject ink.

Double Patenting

11. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA

Art Unit: 1765

1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

12. Claims 19-21 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 59-60 of U.S. Patent No. 6,502,930. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the invention in patent '930 encompasses the instant invention.

Conclusion

13. The prior art listed in PTO-892 made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
